COLLAGE STUDIO SUMMER 2010

Monday July 5 - Friday, August 6, 2010

After a highly successful inaugural summer 2009, Studio Creative Play is proud to announce that we will again offer our multifaceted creative enrichment camp for children 4, 5, 6, and 7-years of age. For summer 2010 we are expanding our program to include children who are 7 years old and will focus upon integrating projects and performance in:

Art
Sculpture
Dance, Movement, Yoga
Drama and Comedy

At Collage Studio each of these curricular areas is assigned their own day of the week on which activities and projects will be focused. The Collage Studio co-teaching team is supported daily by talented and inspiring, expert guest artists and instructors who lead the process of expression in each curricular area.

Throughout the course of a week, children attending Collage will inhabit the magic and diversity of experience that each day's creative world has to offer. In this Studio, dancers, comedians, actors, yogis, and artists will ignite the children's imaginative inner worlds and move them to grow and collaborate in their playful self-expression and productions.

Each day culminates with participants working on individual large format collage on canvas art pieces. By the end of the week, children will have completed one canvas of their own. These collages serve as rich, multidimensional, visual celebrations of the joyous processes experienced in this unique and nurturing summer Studio community.

Beyond the Studio environment, the program also offers children the rewards of outdoor romp, play, and field exploration key to summer fun. We will have Prospect Park and Botanical Gardens adventures, extensive water play in our garden (wading pools, slides, etc.) and museum excursions. Outdoor journeys are an integral part of the summer Studio schedule, balancing the more structured, art focused component of the program.

Collage Studio is a small summer program hosting only seven to ten children in each age group. The age groups are partially mixed for some aspects of the special events exercises and projects, but otherwise, outside of outdoor recreation, maintain separate activity. There are two instructors assigned to each age group.

The program is directed by SCP founder and director, Khaatee V. Turner, and taught by the staff of Venni Studio and other arts educators.

Safety is first priority in all aspects of this summer program's activity. All teachers are First-Aid and CPR certified. There will be a comprehensive orientation packet sent to Collage Studio attendees and their families prior to the session commencement to further acquaint participants with the structure, offerings, protocol, staff, and community of the program.
